I did my graduation in BSc BCAN from Sarojini Naidu Vanita Maha Vidhyala. My experience was amazing, academic program at it, as described in the college catalog, helped me prepare for life after college because as compared to other colleges, it provides a unique and wide-ranging learning experience. This experience prepared me for my future career by giving me a competitive edge. That's how I started developing interest in the field and now after my MSc, I'm working as a consultant dietitian in a corporate hospital at Hi-tech city. It taught me many things, helped me to grow as a person and to figure out what I actually want from my life. It was a journey of joy and hardship. I had wonderful lectures who were very involved with the students and who used to motivate us.

Working as a dietician lead in Abbott, heading the South zone-Telangana, Andhra Pradesh and Karnataka

I've done my Bsc in Applied Nutrition from Vanita Mahavidyala affiliated to Osmania University-Hyderabad, my first step to success is to get a seat in this amazing college

Our college management have been providing all the necessary infrastructure and the advanced equipment. Specially the Nutrition labs, the practical experience what you get from this is overwhelming. The lectures are extremely helpful and highly skilled at their own expertise, the management itself is well cultured to Indian roots yet super skilled at combining modern science, the extracurricular activities and sports keeps students to engage and motivates to let keeps students to engage and motivates to enhance the creativity among students

Our institute have the best quality of teaching and education. The lecturers always seek to give their best to the students to gain academic knowledge and to improve the industry need skills.

Also to highlight for a Dietician it is very important to know the scientific knowledge, hence this college provides a combination of Biochemistry, chemistry and Nutrition which itself is a unique combination to gain the right insight which helped me in patient counselling .

I've started of my career with a pharma firm -GSK as a Nutrition Advisor ,later got an opportunity to expose in various sectors, have been expertise in taking up lifestyle disorder seminar in corporates like Google, Infosys based out of Hyderabad.

Later moved to Hilton shillim wellness retreat, worked there for 4 long years as a vertical head for Nutrition and Dietetics

Now I'm working for Abbott as a Dietician lead, looking after the entire South zone

Studying at Vanita's Nutrition Department fostered my growth as both scholar and person. The Dedication and passion of the professors is contagious. My classes were always engaging, always dynamic. They cemented my love of sciences and gave me strong foundation for further studies. Beyond that, the support available at this department is unparalleled. I will never have enough good words to describe my time there. And I Never forgot that Majoring in Nutrition turned out to be one of the top Best decisions of my Life.

Rahila Rawoof,
an alumni of SNVMV, batch 2011-2014.
Presently working as Head of the Department in an OU affiliated PG college.
UGCNET qualified, PHd entrance qualified, shortlisted for interview.

After intermediate, Nutrition being a new subject, in combination with biochemistry was challenging.

Thorough patience and constant guidance from my facilitators was all needed to be here where I am today.

It was a complete makeover in my personality, be it professionalism, discipline, soft skills or making some beautiful bonds for life.

Thank you to the great facilitators of knowledge.

My lecturers!

Vanita is a college which is open for everyone irrespective of their caste, religion and above all their backgrounds, it provides every comfort besides being more studies oriented.
