REPORT

We visited Fernandez kitchen as a part of project work on 25th march 2023

INTRODUCTION

- Fernandez hospital began as a small maternity clinic in 1948, systematically progressing into a full-fledged women's hospital.
- The hospital presently comprises five strategic locations in Hyderabad.
- This flagship hospital, started as a two bedded maternity clinic, which grew into a 110 bedded hospital over a period of seven decades.

SERVICES

- Fernandez is premier speciality hospital for obstetrics and gynecology.
- Offering specialist care in obstetrics and Neonatology, this hospital has a full-fledged midwife led unit (MLU) to offer midwifery care to low-risk mothers.

DIETARY DEPARTMENT

- Dr Latha Sashi has been a consultant Nutritionist at Fernandez hospital for past 17 years. Dr. Latha's specialty is pregnancy and post-natal nutrition, maternal and pediatric nutrition, and many more.
- Asma Sajid –A Registered Dietitian with experience as a clinical nutritionist from multi-specialty hospitals. She specializes in critical care nutrition, maternal and pediatric nutrition, obesity, CVD and diabetes.
- Department of clinical nutrition and dietetics provides quality and evidence-based patient-focused nutritional care in terms of food service and medical nutrition therapy.
- They conduct nutritional assessments for all the patients by reviewing medical history, diet history, and laboratory results.
- They plan appropriate balanced meals and provide nutritional counselling that complement medical treatment.

TYPE OF SERVICE

DECENTRALIZED SERVICE SYSTEM

- The hospital had decentralized delivery system, where the food products were produced in bulk in one location and transported to various locations for assembly at sites near patients.

LAYOUT OF THE KITCHEN

- The hospital kitchen has assembly linelayout.
- This facilitates the production of lots of the same type of dish over and over again. This works best with the multiplecooks.
- It consists of a central row or island that starts with food preparation and ends with the completed item that is ready to be taken to be served.

VENTILATION

- They tried to maintain proper ventilation through exhaust fans and chimneys to eliminate smoke

DRINKING WATER SUPPLY

- The water they use for cooking is RO filtered water and remaining unpurified water is used in washing utensils. Drinking water supply is near to the kitchen and far away from the garbagearea.

EQUIPMENTS

- Ranges: As the name implies, it can perform a range of functions such as cooking, frying, boiling, grilling, baking etc. Heavy duty ranges are used in the kitchen. cooking ranges come with multiple burners usually 4 to 8, depending on the amount of food to be handled.
- Ovens: 3 deck ovens were used for baking breads.
- Stoves: piped gas stoves were used and to decrease the consumption of gas they came up with an good initiative i.e., PILOT STOVE in which they use coal to cook the food.
- Cooking utensils: woks, kadai, storage containers, storage bins etc. were used.
- Serving containers for transport: Insulating cans were used to maintain the temperature of the food during the transport.
- Serving material: plastic food grade 100% disposable plates were used to serve the food to the patient.

- Packaging material: serving containers were cling wrapped to avoid exposure and contamination.

PROCESS FLOW OF OPERATION

Receiving raw materials

- Raw materials which are perishable like vegetables were bought every day from the vendors.
- Non-perishables were bought weekly once from the main store or from the online services like zomato, big basket, metro etc.
- Storage: dry storage area: In dry storage area, non-perishable items were stored. The kitchen contains two dry storage areas: Mini dry storage area and Main dry storage area.
- The principle followed in this service is- First in and First out.
- In main dry storage area, raw materials required for 1-10 days were stored.
- Materials like basmati rice, eggs, flour, masalas and non-perishable items were stored in main storage area.
- In mini storage area, raw materials were used within 2 days.
Example: ketchups, Mayonnaise, soya chunks, were stored.
- Steel containers were used to store food materials like roasted Bengal, oats, sugar etc. Which were marked with dates to be used within.
- Food materials were also stored in the racks.
- Cold room storage area:
These are also called walk-in freezers.
Milk, curd, Idli batter, vegetables like tomato, spring onions, cauliflower etc., were stored in cling wrapped utensils.
The temperature maintained in the cold room area was 0 to -5°C.
Deep freezers were used to store non-veg items. The temperature maintained was -5 to -18°C.
- Preparation area
- Washing area: Vegetables were washed using sumobriter liquid under three bucket system using freshwater.
- Peeling area: Peeling area/trimming area is used to peel the washed vegetables.
- Grinding area: Double stone wet grinders were used to grind dosha batter, chutneys, gravies etc. The temperature was set to the room temperature.
Pest killer machine was also used in this area to reduce pest control:-
- Cutting area: Central cutting unit (CCU) : This unit consists of peeling and chopping vegetables using an electric cutting machine called cosmes zepa 8.
All root vegetables and other vegetables were chopped using this machine which has different blades.

- This machine can cut over 500 kg of vegetables per hour.
- A small machine was also used to cut onions and tomatoes.
- Boilers were used for making rice which works on steam. Temperature maintained is 120-150°C. 40Kg of rice is prepared at a single time.
- In dough making, dough kneader is used. This area also includes conveyer/roti making machine, wherein 23000 chapattis were made per day.
- Other preparations:
Non-veg preparation is separate from other section. Customization of patients menu is considered. Cyclic menu is followed in food preparations. Baking area is separate in which muffins, breads, cakes were made.
- Washing of utensils:
Washing area is built separately. RO water which is unfiltered/leftover is used to clean the utensils. Dish racks were used to dry the washed utensils. A special footwear called GUMSHOES were used in that area.
- Waste disposal:
The garbage is disposed for 2 times/day.
Large garbage bins were used to dispose the wet and dry garbage.
- Service (Transportation):
Closed vehicles were used for assemble of food at hospital.
Electric vehicles were also used which contains shelves for storage.

Food production timings:

- The kitchen starts at 2am.
- Breakfast is prepared at 6am and assembled at the hospital.
- Lunch is prepared at 9am and served at 12pm, snacks are prepared at 2pm and served at 5pm, whereas dinner at 5pm and served at 7:30pm.
- The production unit serves 3500 people Everyday.

Records maintained:

- Training records: Training records includes the training topics, the name of the instructor, the date and the trainee's name.
- Staff documents: This includes ID proofs of the staff document.
- Menus: Menus Includes list of dishes to be served on particular day.
- CCP report: This report has information which prevents, reduces and eliminates hazards of food.
- Personal hygiene report: It includes personal hygiene of a staff working in the kitchen.
- FTR (food taste records): This record gives the sensory evaluation of the food based on consistency, texture.

Food safety practices:

- The kitchen is cleaned 3 times/day.
- Garbage is well disposed
- Serving material is disposable.
- HACCP principles were followed.
- Equipment were cleaned everyday.

OBSERVATION

- At receiving area, head gear and shoe cover was provided to maintain the hygiene.
- The kitchen has Assembly line layout i.e. it has different area for vegetable washing, peeling, central cutting unit, grinding, cooking, packaging and washing.
- It was informed that every day food production is 3500 people which include patients, nurses, staff and attenders.
- The working staff in the kitchen is 25 people.
- Cooking area, there is different space for preparation of patients food and staff's food.
- For patients they use water boiler, idli steamers and riceboilers.
- There is separate space in this area customized patients who have their own choices and few may also have allergies.
- The preparation of food is done as per their choice every day. Transportation, the kitchen has three vehicles for transportation. Each vehicle carry food to two units.
- The vehicle has customary shelves for cold storage.
- Packaging, as assembly is done at the hospital, the food is packed in steel containers, insulated containers for hot serving dishes, steel strays.
- The food for mid-workers is packed in plastic compartment boxes which are safe and disposable.
- The hygiene and cleanliness in the kitchen was properly maintained.
